Meanwhile, Jarrod Robertson, head of US Capital's Swiss office, attended the highly anticipated inaugural Meta Entertainment World (MEW) conference in Monte Carlo, Monaco, on May 23–24. Offering a taste of what the metaverse can bring, the MEW conference is set to continue in Miami, Dubai, and Seoul in 2023. US Capital's recently opened Swiss office is located in Zug, a leading hub for blockchain often referred to as Switzerland's "Crypto Valley."

In early June, Charles Towle and CMO Vanessa Guajardo attended the iConnections Digital Assets Forum in South Beach, Miami, as well as CoinDesk's Consensus 2022 festival, the world's biggest and longest-running crypto festival, in Austin, TX, together with Joshua Hawley. Consensus is the only event showcasing and celebrating all sides of the blockchain. The event covered finance, investing, NFTs, DeFi, regulation, Web 3 and the metaverse – and their wide-reaching effect on commerce, culture, and communities.

"US Capital also hosts a wide range of online and in-person events to showcase our leading FinTech, MedTech, LegalTech, and other offerings," said Chairman and CEO Jeffrey Sweeney. "These include a California-based online tech platform for connecting lawyers and clients, a new-concept tech-enabled music licensing company, and an innovative body imaging system that uses low-energy sound. It also includes an AI-powered decentralized virtual wholesale technology firm, a B2B company specializing in the removal of lead and heavy metals from drinking water, and a US-based company that tracks the prion-protein biomarkers associated with Alzheimer's, Parkinson's, and Lewy Body Dementia."

"We hold a variety of fun, insightful, and highly rewarding online and in-person events almost every week, from cocktail parties and wine-tasting evenings to educational webinars on finance, tech, and digital assets," said CMO Guajardo. "Contact us if you would like to know more about upcoming events or to meet up with me or another member of our team in person."
